RED SOX NAME BOBBY VALENTINE 45th MANAGER IN CLUB HISTORY

BOSTON, MAô The Boston Red Sox today named Bobby Valentine as the 45th manager in the club¢s 111-year history. Valentine agreed to terms on a two-year contract with club options for 2014 and 2015. No further terms were disclosed.

The announcement was made by Executive Vice President/General Manager Ben Cherington.

õWe are thrilled to welcome Bobby as the manager of the Red Sox, and Iøm eager to begin working closely with him in our preparations for the 2012 season,ö said Cherington. õHe is one of the brightest baseball minds I have encountered, with a wealth of experience in the game, an unmatched passion for winning and a proven track record of success in demanding environments. In Bobby, we have the right man to lead the Red Sox.ö

A veteran of more than 40 years in professional baseball, Valentine has previously served parts of 15 seasons as a Major League manager with the Texas Rangers (1985-92) and New York Mets (1996-2002), compiling a 1,117-1,072 (.510) record. He ranks fourth among active managers in games and fifth in wins. The Stamford, CT native becomes the sixth Red Sox manager born in New England and the second from Connecticut, joining Meriden@ Jack Barry, who managed the club in 1917.

Valentine owns the Rangers record for all-time managerial victories and games, leading Texas to a 581-605 (.490) mark during his tenure, and was selected as the American League& Manager of the Year in 1986 by United Press International. While at the helm in New York, he guided the team to a 536-467 (.534) record, the second-most wins for a Mets manager behind only Davey Johnson& 595. He took the Mets to the postseason in back-to-back years in 1999 and 2000, marking the only time in franchise history the club reached the playoffs in consecutive seasons. New York advanced to the League Championship series on both occasions and earned a World Series berth in 2000. After the 1999 season, Valentine was honored with the New York Athletic Club's Manager of the Year Award.

His previous managerial experience includes parts of two seasons at the helm of the Mets Triple-A Norfolk club in 1994 and 1996, and seven years over two stints with the Chiba Lotte Marines of Japanos Pacific League in 1995 and 2004-09. In 2005, Valentine led the Marines to their first Pacific League pennant in 31 years and a four-game sweep of the Japan Series for the Nippon Professional Baseball Championship. Chiba Lotte also won the inaugural Asia Series that year, defeating the Samsung Lions of the Korea Baseball Organization. Valentine was presented with the 2005 Matsutaro Shoriki Award, given to an individual who makes great contributions to professional baseball in Japan.

Valentine began his coaching career with the San Diego Padres, serving as minor league infield instructor in 1980-81. He held the same position with the Mets in 1982 before joining New York¢s Major League staff as third base coach and infield and baserunning instructor that November. He also worked in the Cincinnati Reds organization in 1993, spending the first part of that year as an advance scout before joining the Big League staff as third base coach in May.

A first-round selection of the Los Angeles Dodgers in the 1968 June Draft, Valentine played parts of 10 Major League seasons with the Dodgers (1969, 1971-72), California Angels (1973-75), Padres (1975-77), Mets (1977-78) and Seattle Mariners (1979). He batted .260 (441-for-1,698) with 59 doubles, nine triples, 12 home runs, 157 RBI, 176 runs scored, 140 walks and 27 stolen bases in 639 career games while appearing at every position except pitcher.

Born Robert John Valentine on May 13, 1950, he starred in baseball, football and track at Rippowan High School in Stamford. He was the first three-year All-State High School football player in Connecticut scholastic history and also played one summer in the Cape Cod Baseball League before his senior year. Valentine was selected to the Connecticut High School Coaches Association Hall of Fame in 1986 and was voted as one of the greatest athletes of the 20th century from Connecticut in a 1999 Sports Illustrated poll. He attended the University of Southern California and Arizona State University. Valentine and his wife, Mary, reside in Stamford and have a son, Robert John Jr. Mary is the daughter of former Brooklyn Dodgers pitcher Ralph Branca.

Valentine is dedicated to giving back to the community and has been honored on numerous occasions for his community service. He was tabbed with the Good Guy Award from both the New York Press Photographers Association and the New Jersey sportswriters in 1998. New York Mayor Rudy Giuliani presented him with the Key to New York City for his work during the September 11 recovery, and he received humanitarian service awards from both the New York Chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America and the New Jersey Baseball Writers following the 2001 season. In 2002, he received the nationally prestigious Branch Rickey Award, which recognizes professionals in Major League Baseball for exceptional community service, and he was honored with the Baseball Assistance Teamøs Bart Giamatti Award for contributions to the community in 2003. Valentine has also donated time and resources to benefit charitable organizations in Japan and after the 2005 season, he was presented with the Golden Spirits Award, given annually in Nippon Professional Baseball to the individual who best exemplifies the game of baseball, sportsmanship, community involvement and team contributions.

He served as an analyst for ESPN¢s baseball coverage in 2003 and for parts of the last three years, and was a member of the network¢s Sunday Night Baseball broadcast team last season. Valentine has been in the restaurant business for over 30 years and also has a sports academy in Stamford. Additionally, he has held the position of Director of Public Health and Safety for the city of Stamford since January.
